Photocopy

Make copies legally from books, study guides, music publications, songbooks, journals, drama scripts and other published documents

Scan

Legal permission to scan pages from publications to create electronic copies for archiving or reference

Cover to duplicate electronic documents. Circulate PDF files by email, or download documents from a shared online app

COPYING TYPESET PUBLICATIONS

---

Copyright in typography

Copyright exists in the typesetting of publications first published in the last 25 years. This means that specific permission is required to make photocopies of pages within the publication, even if the content (article/song etc.) itself is no longer in copyright. CCLI's Photocopying licences provide blanket permission for many popular publications used by churches.

How do I know if a licence is required?

Some publications include the right to copy in the purchase price. CCLI recommends always checking the copyright information printed within the first few pages of the publication for details.

What's the cost?

The CLA Church Licence is available as an annual licence. The Music Reproduction Licence is available as an annual or 14-day event licence. For licence fees visit: uk.ccli.com/copyright-licences.
